

Declaration of Independence

By T. Jefferson

We used to be together
Through the stormy weather
I was your favorite colony
Until you found another
Long distance lover
Now you've got no time left for me
When I'm looking back
On all the good times we had
Is it just another case of
Good lovin' gone bad?

A cold hearted morning
Came without a warning
I can see the distance in your eyes
So when I say I'm leaving
Don't stand there disbelieving
Shouldn't come as no surprise
All the good times are gone
Just a thing of the past
But you wouldn't listen
When they said it couldn't last - So

I Declare
I Declare
My Independence from you
My Independence from you
My Independence from you...

When in the course
Of human events
It becomes necessary
To Break Free! (Chorus)
